

VINOL FOR THE AGED

Rickert & Wells, Our Well Known Druggists, Prepared to Show That Nothing Equals Vinol For Old People.

Said Mr. Wells of Rickert & Wells: "It is a pleasure to receive letters like the following in regard to our Vinol, as they fully substantiate our claims as to what it will do."

Mr. Joseph Bankson of Decatur, Ill., writes: "I am in my 78th year, and for some time I have been losing strength and suffering with a chronic cold and lung

JOSEPH BANKSON.

trouble, until I was seriously ill and could not go out of doors. My son sent me some Vinol. I commenced to take it and it has simply worked wonders for me.
I feel better and stronger than I have for years, and my cough is all gone."

"You see," said Mr. Wells, "Vinol contains in a concentrated form all the strengthening, healing properties of cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil or grease to upset the stomach, and no sickening drugs, and for this reason it has remarkable power to cure chronic coughs and colds, build up and invigorate the weak and aged, make rich, red blood, cure stomach troubles, and restore the convalescent to perfect health."

"I just wish every aged, run down or debilitated person in Barre would try Vinol on our guarantee to return the money paid for it every time it fails."

JAR FOR PARKERITES.

Pictures of Teddy on House the Judge Was Born In.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—News comes from Cortland, N. Y., where Judge Parker was born, that the zealous partisans who have been making pilgrimages to the house in which he first saw the light of day have been greatly angered, and even shocked, to find every window in the front of the building decorated with Roosevelt portraits.

The house and the farm on which it stands are still owned by Mrs. Parker, mother of the Democratic candidate, but the present tenant is an ardent supporter of his opponent, and, exercising his right as a free American citizen, showed his enthusiasm by placing in each window of the house a large poster picture of Roosevelt.

This was done early in the summer, shortly after the Chicago convention, and since then, until a few days ago, they have annoyed the Democrats at the town, and even to a greater degree those of the faithful who have gone there to visit the birthplace of the candidate.

The tenant turned a deaf ear to all persuasive efforts directed toward the removal of the pictures until a few days ago, when Mrs. Parker went to Cortland to look after her property, and he yielded to her entreaties and removed the posters.

PRESIDENT 40 YESTERDAY.

Received Congratulations the Country Over.

Washington, Oct. 27.—This is the anniversary of President Roosevelt's birth.
He is 46 years of age. Throughout the day he received messages of congratula-tion from friends in all parts of the country and many called to congratulate him upon the anniversary. Among those was Thomas Dennis, a naval veteran who lost both arms by an explosion on the U. S. S. Princeton. Dennis was a bookkeeper for the President at the Navy Department when he was assistant secretary of the navy.

In accordance with the custom established by the Hungarian Republican club of New York, during Mr. Roosevelt's first year as Governor of New York, a committee of the club, headed by William Blau, its president, called on the President to present its felicitations.
Thirteen members of the club were in the delegation.

Mrs. Dewey, wife of Admiral Dewey, made a brief call to extend her congratulations.

Parker to Speak in Three States.

New York, Oct. 26.—Judge Parker's programme and speaking itinerary until election day have been arranged. He will speak in three states—New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut, and in addition there have been arranged receptions in his honor in this city and Brooklyn.

Fearful Arraignment of the Russian Army

AND ALSO NAVY OFFICERS

Many Drunken and Brutal—Hinted at That This Was Cause of the North Sea
Tragedy.

New York, Oct. 26.—The Sun's London correspondent sends the following:

"A very noticeable feature of the English people's reception of the news of the Russian outrage in the North Sea is its calmness. At the same time, it is impossible not to recognize that the deepest anger is burning beneath this calmness, and also a stern resolve to exact the utmost proper reparation."

"The shameless untrustworthiness of Russia's diplomacy and the utter corruption pervading her entire public service have been clearly and impartially pointed out from time to time in the Sun. There is yet a third disgrace which hitherto has not been so definitely indicated, namely, the conduct and character of Russian officers, military and naval."

"The press of every capital of Europe has more than hinted that drunkenness was largely the contributing cause of Russia's latest self-lumination in the North Sea. The time has now come when the drunken dissoluteness and brutality of a large proportion of the Russian officers should be held up to the reprehension of the civilized world.
Its results have become a matter of international concern."

"No one denies the highest honor to such men as the brave Gen. Stoessel, the commander of Port Arthur, one of the few Russian officers who gained the respect of officers of other nationalities during the Pekin expedition, but Stoessel, Kuropatkins, and Kellers are sadly few in the Russian service, both branches of which are disgraced by the presence of too many officers of the type of the Grand Duke Boris, who even at the front surrounded himself with an entourage of painted women and drunken boon companions."

"Such were the men who on the Pekin expedition rode reeling in their saddles, with an orderly on either side to support them when necessary. Such were the men who ordered Chinese prisoners to be shot in order to avoid the trouble of transporting them. These are the men who have been seen in sheer excess of drunken brutality, to strike unoffending private standing at salute with a message. These are the men responsible for the nameless horrors of Blagovestshenka."

"These are the men who were drinking in resorts of shame during the fighting at Liaoyang. These are the men whom responsible Russian correspondents in Russian papers have described as drinking champagne and exchanging obscene jests with abandoned women within earshot of wounded and dying fellow-countrymen. These are the men who, shameless with drink, have persecuted Sisters of Mercy accompanying the army with their loath-some attentions."

"These are the men whose drink-ruined nerves succumbed to panic when the Hull fishing fleet was sighted. These are the men whose competence is such that a half-hour's heavy firing by their fleet at close range enabled them to sink one fishing boat and to kill two and wound 30 fishermen out of a large fleet of unresisting trawlers busily engaged in their peaceful trade, whose humanity is such that when the mistake was discovered they sailed off into the night without offering the slightest assistance to their victims."

"Surely it can only be the duty of the czar to purge his service of such officers as these, who at the present moment make Russia's only fleet a disgrace to its country and a danger to every vessel afloat, save, perhaps, its legitimate foes."

LONDON DEMONSTRATION
FOR THE UNITED STATES.

Remarkable Outburst of Cheers For American Navy, Following Arrest of a Sailor of the Olympia.

New York, Oct. 27.—A London cable to the Sun says a remarkable spontaneous street demonstration in favor of the United States occurred in the west end of London after midnight. It arose from an unpleasant cause. An intoxicated sailor belonging to the American cruiser Olympia was arrested by a policeman in Leicester square, onlookers say quite needlessly, as he was giving no trouble. The sailor resisted and struggled, and both he and the policeman fell. The sailor's head was badly cut.

A crowd of several hundred persons gathered, and demanded the sailor's release. Other police came to the scene, and the crowd, which continued to increase, accused the police of brutality, and hooted them.
Suddenly the hoots gave way to cheers for the United States and the American navy. They continued in increasing volume until the police station was reached, where a big force of officers scattered the crowd. Several spectators who wished to testify against the police were not admitted to the station.

The Pottawottom Trail.

There are still a few old bent trees at Highland Park, Ill., which once marked the Pottawottom trail. One theory is that they were bent to mark the direction to Lake Michigan and another that they leaned toward the spot where the council fire burned.

Catholic Party of Lombardy Rebels on Election Veto.

New York, Oct. 27.—The Herald, in a copyrighted cable dispatch from Milan, says:

"The Catholic party of Lombardy last evening decided to participate in the forthcoming legislative elections, although a 'non expedit' still subsists, and was recently confirmed by Cardinal Merry Del Val."

In Milan and neighboring districts the party resolved to support four candidates who are all Catholic journalists and novices in politics. Two of them are affiliated with the Christian Democracy. It was further resolved that a campaign in favor of these candidates should be maintained, even in the event of a new political veto being issued.

This rebellion against the Vatican has profoundly impressed Liberal monarchists who were to have selected their candidates last night, but who postponed their action in consequence of the action of the Catholic party, which radically changes the outlook.

The political situation is complicated by the antagonistic attitude of the Socialist and Anarchist candidates, several of whom are, nevertheless, supported by the Democratic party.

Riots in Italian Town.

Rome, Oct. 27.—Serious riots have occurred at San Pier Vernotico, a village of 3,000 inhabitants, near Lecce. The disturbances were caused by the arrest of the head of the Peasant League on a charge of swindling. The peasants surrounded the prison in which the accused man was confined and attempted to liberate him.

RAIDED THE TOWN.

Burglars Visited Nine Places in Portsmouth, N. H.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 27.—The police of this city were notified today that nine places of business were entered by burglars last night and small sums of money taken from cash drawers and registers in each place. Considerable damage was done to store fixtures, as well as to doors and windows.

It is believed that the breakers were committed by a gang of burglars which has been operating in the city at intervals of a few weeks for the past year, but the police have no clue to their identity.

ENDEAVORERS

Close Three Days' Convention
With Election.

H. G. WOODRUFF, VICE-PRES.

Second Day's Session Was Taken Up With Reports and Addresses—Convention a Very Profitable One.

Springfield, Oct. 27.—The annual convention of the state Christian Endeavor Society closed here today. The following officers were elected:

President, the Rev. Frazier Metzger, Randolph; vice-presidents, the Rev. H. G.
Woodruff, Barre, the Rev. George S.
Mills, Bennington, G. G. Underwood, Hartland; the Rev. E. F. Swift, Orwell; secretary, Miss Helen L. Graves, St.
Johnsbury Center; treasurer, C. W. Perry, Barre.

The committee on nominations recommended an unwritten law that the president should serve but two terms.
The meeting expressed appreciation of the efficient services of Col. E. B. Osgood of Bellows Falls, who has served as president of the society for the past nine years.

The principal address of the morning was delivered by Harry W. Hicks, the Young People's secretary A. B. C. S. M. of Boston. His subject was missions.
The attendance has been larger than last year and the arrangements for entertaining the delegates have been irreproachable.

The secretary's report, delivered Wednesday by Helen Graves of St. Johnsbury, was very interesting and full of inspiration. The report, in part, was as follows:

In summing up our endeavor work for the past year we report 15 unions, represented 31 denominations, including 271 young people's societies and 60 juniors.
Of these 176 young people's societies report a total membership of 7440. New received during the year numbered 741, active 308, associate 102, total 1151.
Transferred to active list 131, to church membership 232. Twenty-two societies were organized since last October.

The meeting was addressed by Rev.
J. T. Stocking of Bellows Falls, who took for his theme "The Message of Paul to Timothy."

At 11 o'clock Rev. F. M. Baker of Athens addressed the convention on the Christian Endeavor and the churches.
The basis of his address rested upon a part of the Christian Endeavor pledge, which reads: "I will support my own church in every way possible."

The afternoon session was especially for the juniors, Miss Mary W. Ellis, state junior superintendent, presiding.
The evening meeting opened at 7:30 o'clock with an organ voluntary followed by a devotional service led by T. A.
Carlson of Sharon. A letter of greeting from Father Clark was read by President Osgood. This was followed by a stirring address by Von Ogden Nott, who presented a banner to the state union made by Japanese in their native land. He then spoke of the success of Christian Endeavor in this and foreign lands. His address was followed by a hymn. Then a very interesting address was delivered by Prof. Amos Wells of Boston, his subject being, "Wanted, Leaders."

RELATION OF LIQUOR
TRAFFIC TO THE PUBLIC.

North Bennington, Oct. 27.—Following the preliminary service of last evening, the 30th annual meeting of the Vermont Woman's Christian Temperance Union was called to order here today by the president, Mrs. Ida H. Reed of Shelburne. The reports of officers and committees and the annual address of the president occupied the greater part of the day.

An open parliament on the relation of the liquor traffic to business and professional men, to farmers, teachers, lawyers, doctors and to the church was a feature. This evening will be given up to a young people's programme. The convention will continue through tomorrow.

The old cold goes; a new one quickly comes. It's the story of
